Elba City Council approves motion to continue several site improvements at Hawkins-Williams Recreation Park

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The Elba City Council moved forward with renovations for Hawkins-Williams Park during the council meeting Monday night, Feb. 10, when the council approved a new resolution for more work to begin at the recreational park.

The work is part of a LWCF (Land and Water Conservation Fund) grant the city received for site improvements at Hawkins-Williams Park. The resolution approved by the council Monday night accepted a quote from McClain Contracting Company Inc. of Andalusia, Ala., in the amount of $174,566.

Project engineer DeAnn Grantham, of Southern Engineering Solutions, said the quote includes all remaining proposed work for the Hawkins-Williams Park project except work on the bathrooms, which need to be made handicap accessible. She said she felt the bathroom work could be done for less than what the quote indicated on that portion of the project.

The total construction awarded from the LWCF grant and match on the project was $278,000. The playground, which was previously completed at Hawkins-Williams Park cost $48,705.33. The new construction improvements approved during Monday night's meeting will cost the additional $174,566.

Grantham said that leaves $54,728.67 to complete the bathroom, and she said she feels the necessary work can be done within that funding availability by negotiating that part at a later date.

In approving the recommendation from Grantham, she said, "We can move forward with all but the bathrooms and go ahead and get moving with the project. We don't really need the bathrooms out of order during ball season anyway."

The council voted unanimously to approve the resolution on the proposed site improvements for Hawkins-Williams Park, minus the bathroom work.

Grantham said lots of the work should be underway and/or completed by the start of the youth baseball/softball season this Spring.

The council approved a FEMA legal contract Monday night to employ attorney Bart Boothe to provide certain legal services for the city involving parcels of property approved for voluntary participation in FEMA's Stafford Act financial Grant to the City of Elba.

Elba PD hosts reps of local law enforcement agencies for Crime Stoppers presentation on P3 mobile app

The Elba Police Department hosted a Crime Stoppers information meeting last Friday, Feb. 7, with representatives from several local law enforcement agencies in attendance.

Lt. Russ Young with the Elba Police Department said Elba already has signed up as a member of the Central Alabama Crime Stoppers organization. He said Friday's program, held in the Elba Municipal Court offices, provided an opportunity for additional local agencies to learn more about Crime Stoppers technology and to sign up for the program as well.

"Agencies from Coffee, Covington, Geneva, and Crenshaw counties were represented at last week's meeting," Lt. Young said. "And, several of those signed letters of intent with Central Alabama Crime Stoppers to join the program."

Officials with Central Alabama Crime Stoppers provided a tutorial during the meeting of technology available now that allows tipsters to use the internet and even their mobile phones to provide tips anonymously on crimes.

The P3 Intel is a tip management software program used by Central Alabama Crime Stoppers that allows tipsters to provide their tips anonymously to Crime Stoppers using the app.

According to officials with Central Alabama Crime Stoppers, tipsters can provide tips online completely secure and anonymous via the WebTip process. This unique integrated two-way dialog capabilities allows the tipster to come back and provide additional information to their tip at any time, but it also provide a secure means for the coordinator to ask questions and/or provide reward information back to the tipster through the same secure and encrypted interface.

P3 tips is the mobile app available for download at the Apple App Store or Android App on Google Play, and this allows tipsters to use their mobile phones to provide tips to help law enforcement agencies fight crime.

P3 simply stands for Public, Police, Private Sector - Working together to Solve and Prevent Crime.

Coffee County BOE members accept retirement letters from two longtime Zion Chapel elementary teachers

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The Coffee County Board of Education received good financial status news Thursday evening, Feb. 6, during the regular monthly board meeting.

David Langham, a municipal investment banker for financial services organization INTL FCStone said it was necessary to get the board a credit rating as it looks into long-term debt investments. He said that report came back to him, and he was happy to report that Standard and Poors assigned a AA- rating to the Coffee County School System.

"In the bond world, this is like a 775 credit score," Langham said. "This is a fantastic, wonderful accomplishment. Your system is in the top tier of school systems in Alabama."

Langham said the AA-rating would allow Coffee County to go into the market and get the best interest rates on the long-term debt financing.

Following Langham presentation, the board approved an authorizing resolution to allow INTL FCStone Financial to proceed with the bond process. Langham said the resolution allows him to send necessary forms to the state, and once the forms are approved and returned from the state, he can go into the market and lock down an interest rate.

Langham said his objective, if everything is approved and returned in a timely manner, would be to have an interest rate locked in by Feb. 18th with closing on the bond by the 27th of the month. Of course, he said that all depended on the state returning forms in a timely manner.

A group of four senior students from New Brockton High School - Destiny Hataway, Paula McKenna, Mary Beth Smith, and Jayle Teele - presented their winning senior honors project to the board during last week's meeting. This was a literature project.

Gray Harrison, technology coordinator for the Coffee County School System, coordinated a honors project competition for the county schools. He said the teachers set the criteria for this senior project, along with what was expected from the students with their final product.

Harrison said there were some very good presentation, but the team from New Brockton was determined as the county winner.

In other business, board members approved a recommendation from superintendent Kevin Killingsworth to send out bids for construction of six new classrooms at New Brockton High School.

Also during the meeting, the board approved three personnel matters, including accepting retirement letters

Elba Chief of Police warns citizens to be aware of new phone scam

Elba Chief of Police Leslie Hussey said Tuesday, Feb. 11, that he had been made aware of a new phone scam circulating in the area.

Chief Hussey said a citizen called him referencing a phone scam where the caller indicates he/she is from Google or Microsoft, and he/she insists the citizen will have to start paying a $2.99 fee per month on your account. The caller insists this is necessary to keep the account open, and then asks for bank account or credit card information to process the monthly fee.

Chief Hussey wants citizens to know this is completely a phone scam, and is not legitimate at all. He said anyone that receives such a call should simply hang up on the phone scammer, but he said to never give out personal information or financial information over the phone.

COFFEE COUNTY CONSERVATION DISTRICT will hold its monthly board meeting Thursday, Feb. 13, at 10 a.m. at the Alabama Forestry Commission office, 1155 E. McKinnon Street, New Brockton, AL 36351.

THE ELBA LIONS CLUB ANNUAL PANCAKE BREAKFAST will be Saturday, March 7, from 6 - 10 a.m. at the Elba Senior Citizens building, located on the square in downtown Elba. The club is seeking a $5 donation per plate.

News Brief:

A two-vehicle accident Monday, Feb. 10, at 2:20 p.m., claimed the life of a Coffee County woman.

Sharon Lee Miller, age 43, of Enterprise, Ala., was killed when the 2014 Honda Pilot she was operating pulled into the path of a 2012 Freightliner, driven by Johnny Sherrer, age 57, of Chancellor, Ala. Miller was pronounced dead at the scene. Sherrer was transported to Medical Center Enterprise with non-life threatening injuries.

The accident occurred on Alabama 167 at the intersection of Alabama 85, ten miles south of Enterprise. Nothing further is available as ALEA State Troopers continue to investigate.

Donation campaigns underway to benefit Elba Theatre

The Elba Theatre project continues to move forward with the project already having raised over $472,000 to help in bringing movies, plays, concerts, and more to the theatre again; however, project organizers said now is a great time to help even more.

"Over the next couple of months, if you happen by, you could see the re-placement of the roof, the installation of an HVAC system, the addition of restrooms and more," said Restoration 154's Justin Maddox. "Yet, we are not finished, and we need your help more than ever."

Restoration 154 is the non-profit organization overseeing the Elba Theatre project.

Restoration 154 currently has two ways the community can donate to the Elba Theatre project, and others as well.

The first donating option for the Elba Theatre is a 'double your impact' possibility.

Maddox said Artplace America has agreed to match any donation made to the Elba Theatre project, up to $1,000, through Thursday, Feb. 20th.

He said this means if a person donates $1 then Artplace America will donate $1. Any amount given from $1 to $1,000 will be doubled!

To participate with this opportunity, Maddox said one should visit the website www.elbatheatre.com and click on the 'Support The Theatre' link [then click on the IOBY campaign link].

Also, he said any preferring to donate by check can do so as well by contacting Restoration 154 at restoration154@gmail.com.

restoration154@gmail.com

The second donating opportunity that Restoration 154 currently has going through March 4th is the donation of gently worn, used and new shoes.

One may ask how donating shoes will generate funds for the Elba Theatre project, and Maddox said the answer is via a partnership with Funds2Orgs.

He said Restoration 154 member Philip Box actually is overseeing this particular project, but the gist of it is that Restoration 154 collects the shoes, and then those shoes are banded together [bagged by count of 25 pair in each]. Funds2Orgs collects the shoes when they are ready, and they provide funds to the Elba Theatre project based on count [i.e., 100 bags equals $1,000].

It is at this point that Maddox said the shoe donations help others beyond

The best and most beautiful things in the world cannot be seen or even touched - they must be felt with the heart. — Helen Keller

Seven Alabama law enforcement officers were killed in the line of duty over the past 13 months. Attorney General Steve Marshall has been known to 'play to the audience' with his press conferences but the discussion in this Tuesday's conference goes far beyond anyone's political ambitions. These violent deaths are part of a growing unrest in America, one that definitely needs addressing and sooner rather than later. These killings and the unrest in national politics are all symptoms of a populace that is restless, floundering — or worse - maybe frightened. We don't have any answers in this very serious matter, but something needs to be done to reverse the direction our society is tumbling into with no bottom in sight. Law enforcement is a hazardous job in the best of times, but it is clearly getting more dangerous by the hour. While we are hoping for a positive solution to this issue, it is our suggestion that each of our readers never miss a chance to thank a law enforcement officer for their service to make our lives, and the lives of our families, a little safer. With all their faults human beings are prone to have, it is still more than fair to say 'Thanks Officer'.

This week's edition of The Elba Clipper has the official list of qualified Coffee County voters. Alabama is probably the last state that furnishes this information so openly to the public, so we urge you to utilize it, check your listing and where you, along with your family and close friends, are to vote this year. There is a major change in voting sites in Elba this time with those of us who normally vote at the Claxton Avenue Recreation Center now voting at the Elba Church of Christ, on the Troy Highway. The rec building has seen better days and without a new floor (and floor joists) is not safe. If you are NOT on this list, there is still time to contact the Board of Registrars in New Brockton and get this corrected. We are going to the polls next month so don't delay.

Thus far Coffee County has dodged the bullet when there have been warnings of bad weather headed toward the Southern part of the United States. It seems that the worst of these storms go to the left or right —and/or North or South of our area. That is all right, we have had enough weather disasters to last two lifetimes. We write that as weather warnings are hitting the airways with a possibility of bad weather the latter part of the week.

Cuzin Lou Lou's Tales from Yonder

Editor's Note: Cuzin Lou Lou's comments are best delivered using your biggest Southern drawl, lol!

Lou Lou gets tickled occasionally when she is scrolling through her Facebook feed and sees all the 'check-ins' at these places where folks are paying big bucks for healthy shakes.

Now, Lou Lou is in no way opposed to people enjoying those things if they so desire. As a matter of fact she always says 'go for it' if that is what floats your boat. But, Lou Lou cannot figure out why it is necessary to 'check-in' when a new shake is purchased.

A mystery to her that will continue to be.

Earlier this week, Lou Lou was minding her own business when suddenly Sister checks-in with a shake of her own!

"What in the name of Yonder!?!?"

Lou Lou knew Sister had been curious about these healthy shakes, especially as of late because several of her co-workers had jumped on the crave bus. But, Lou Lou had no idea that Sister was going to go out and get her own seat on the bus too!

Well, Lou Lou immediately sent Sister a text!

"You trying to 'Get Fit' too?" she asked.

"It wasn't really what I was expecting," Sister said. "I should have gone with a different one."

Thinking it was all a bit too funny, Lou Lou decided to 'pick' a bit at Sister.

Lou Lou sent Sister a picture of her own cup of coffee and the Little Debbie brownie she had just opened.

Sister texted back, "Is that part of your Get Curvy plan?"

"You know it!" Lou Lou said.

At lunch, Sister brought the remnants of her supposed to be Strawberry Cheesecake healthy shake home, and Lou Lou decided to take a swig and check it out for herself.

Gag! Cough! Gag some more! Cough even louder! Run to the Sink! Spit it Out! Lou Lou was dying, and she was convinced she had just swallowed liquid antibiotics straight from cup pretending to be something it definitely was not!

Sister literally rolled her eyes at Lou Lou and insisted she was being over dramatic. She literally had the nerve to say to Lou Lou that it was not that bad.

"You lie!" Lou Lou exclaimed!

Sister can have her healthy shake all day long any day, but Lou Lou decided she will stick to the Get Curvy plan!

"When I want a shake, I'll have me a good 'ole sugar filled chocolate ice cream milkshake!"

Long story short... Lou Lou will leave the healthy shakes to everyone else, and if she decided to drop a few pounds, it'll most definitely be from some other source than a healthy shake! Sister has lost her mind!!

Now apparently Sister is planning to go back for a blueberry muffin shake next time. Be assured...Lou Lou has a Martha White blueberry muffin mix in the cabinet that will satisfy her just fine!!

Until next time...God bless and keep smiling!

recorded deed document including Statement of Voluntary Participation to be executed by each Seller/Owner who accepts the offered amount to the City of Elba, upon sale closing, at a rate of $125 each.

Lt. Russ Young provided a report from the police department to council members, and he noted the department is losing another officer to another local agency. He said the officer did say he would be willing to help out part-time still, if needed.

Council member Gappa Wise asked Young if he thought money was the main reason so many officers leave to go to other agencies, and Young said yes. He added that while there can be other factors to the decision to leave, the main reason in most cases is money.

Referencing this particular officer, Young said the sheriff in the county in which he will be going to work for, simply made the officer an offer he could not refuse.

The next Elba City Council meeting will be Monday, Feb. 24, at 5:30 p.m. at Elba City Hall.

How to Take Your Child to a Funeral

The death of a loved one can have a profound impact on a child, and should be handled with care. For kids who have not yet had to experience funerals or the concept of death, the ideas associated with these events can be frightening. Understand that there is no "right" age when it comes to allowing your son or daughter attend the funeral of a loved one. If you believe attending the service would help your child to grieve, it is appropriate to bring him/her to the service. Keep these tips in mind:

Make sure they will be able to sit respectfully - Many kids are not used to sitting still for long periods of time without a handheld video game or other toys to distract them. While these items might be acceptable to use in restaurants or while waiting at the doctor's office, it is not appropriate to bring toys to a funeral. If you are not confident your child can sit still without a form of distraction, you may want to reconsider bringing them.

Brief the boy or girl about what to expect - Funerals are not easy for anyone to deal with, and can be especially stressful for young kids who do not know what to expect. To ensure your child is prepared to handle the experience, give the boy or girl an idea about what will go on at the funeral. Explain the occasion is a sad one, and they may see the people they love crying. Note this is normal, and they are free to cry too if they are feeling sad. During the discussion, you should also make it a point to explain to the child how they will need to behave throughout the duration of the service. Make sure they are prepared to sit quietly for an extended period of time.

Talk with the child about death - For many kids, a funeral is their first experience with death and mortality. This can be unsettling and confusing for a child. Help them navigate this time by explaining the ideas and concepts involved in a way they might understand. Remember the death of a loved one can be used as a way to talk about human biology or religion with your son or daughter, especially as it pertains to what happens when you die. You can express your own personal beliefs on these matters, and ask your son or daughter what their thoughts are on the subject.

Be prepared to continue discussing the subject - Funerals can have a significant impact on kids, and parents should appreciate and respect this. Your child may want to continue talking about the funeral after it is over. If it is clear they are struggling with the idea of death or the passing of a loved one, spend some time discussing the issues further. You may want to read kids' books on the subject, or take some time to answer lingering questions they may have.

CHURCH NEWS

Pastor's Corner

MINISTER PHILIP BOX
ELBA CHURCH OF CHRIST

Valentine's Day is just around the corner so here are some ways to Love God And Others...

1. Make a list of the ways God has shown His love for you.

The book "I Love You" Prayer is a perfect starter for this activity, whether you do it by yourself or with your family. Take note of God's love for you through the bird singing outside your window or the kitty purring in your bed. See His love through the little arms hugging your neck. The heat in your home on a cold morning or the AC later that same day. Doing this with your kids would be especially sweet because you learn the good things they see in the world. You could simply make lists or each member of your family could write their list on a separate piece of colored paper or even a large poster with a different color marker for each family member (think pinks, purples, reds, and silver).

2. Do good in the world. Volunteer at our food bank, clothes closet, or even the giving garden.

Any of these activities would be perfect for Valentine's Day because you're sharing God's love with those in need. One of my very favorite Bible verse says, "Never walk away from someone who needs help; for you may be the hand of God to that person." Proverbs 3:27 (from The Message) Be His hands and share His love with someone else.

3. Read God's Love for You together.

By reading the Bible you hear first hand, from God Himself, of the love God has for all of us, and it is an activity that tells Him you love Him back. Better yet, copy passages from it and tuck them into places where others will find them. We don't want it to be litter, but maybe one should go in between two boxes on a grocery store shelf, in the cover of a magazine in a waiting room, or on a public bulletin board. Let Him lead you to leave blessings for someone to find by divine appointment.

4. Love each other.

Love is a verb. Love your loved ones like crazy! Don't just say it but show it! Call your parents and in-laws. Go out of your way to serve your children and celebrate them today. Do something special for your spouse. You don't have to spend tons of money, but let your family see the love of Jesus reflected through you. "So now I am giving you a new commandment: Love one another. Just as I have loved you, you should love one another." John 13:34

This week we have an extra excuse to do what we should be doing all the time, so let us all Love God, Love Others, and Serve the World.

* Black History Month Benjamin E. Mays (1895 - 1984)

Before 500,000 people could march on Washington D.C.; Before 30,000 people could march from Selma; Before SNCC could sit in; Before Stokely Carmichael could talk about "Black Power"; Before Martin Luther King Jr. could dream - certain black men had to be bold enough, wise enough, and selfless enough to assume the awesome responsibility of preparing the ground for a harvest they might never see.

Of the handful of men called to this delicate and dangerous task, none tilled more ground than Preacher Benjamin Elijah Mays - a prophet who served as "Schoolmaster" of the Civil Rights Movement during a ministry that spanned some 60 years. During this period, Mays helped lay the foundation for the new world of black and white Americans. Master of a variety of roles - teacher, preacher, scholar, author, newspaper columnist, activist - Mays was enormously effective in the formative years of the Black Revolution in structures of power, such as serving in many executive roles and committees. In these roles, he had a direct and pervasive influence on black institutions, white institutions, and the freedom movement...

Note: If it is God's Will, the conclusion of this article on Benjamin E. Mays will be here in next week's edition of The Elba Clipper.

Enterprise State Community College serves local workforce needs

Following the announcement of the fifth veterans home coming to the City of Enterprise, Enterprise State Community College met with local officials to discuss how both colleges can provide training and education to a workforce that will be growing in the coming years. "We have been preparing for months to serve the needs of our local workforce in anticipation of the new veterans home, wherever it would be located in the Wiregrass," ESCC President Matt Rodgers said. "We know we have great programs already in place to fill the jobs created by this facility, but we're also researching new programs because of the impact it will have in our service area."

The Alabama Department of Veterans Affairs (ADVA) made the announcement of a fifth home after conducting a study regarding the need for an additional veterans home. The study found that by 2045, 1,440 veterans would require a skilled-care bed, and it identified the Wiregrass region as an underserved area for veterans.

In 2023, Enterprise will be home to a new, 175-bed facility with an estimated 300 employees, including nursing and other healthcare staff, maintenance and administration staff.

"Our programs at Enterprise State provide high-quality training and education to our students in order to meet the needs of the local workforce," Dean of Instruction Danny Long said. "We offer programs in office administration, computer sciences incoming facility. Additionally, while we already have a thriving MAT program at ESCC, we recognize that there will be a growing need for nurses in our area."

Director of Workforce Development Ian Campbell said projected data shows LPN jobs growing nationally, across the state and regionally in the next 10 years.

"According to the Health Resources & Services Administration, a projected national shortage of about 151,500 LPNs could develop by 2030," Campbell said. "Data from Emsi, which is collected from the U.S. Census Bureau, the Bureau of Economic Analysis and the Bureau of Labor Statistics, shows that we will see about a 7 percent increase across the state and about a 4 percent increase in our local region by 2029 in LPN positions."

"Because of this information, we are discussing the possibility of creating an LPN program on our Enterprise campus," Long said.

Elba Recreation to host Healthy Living Expo on Saturday, Feb. 22nd, in Elba

The City of Elba's Recreation Department will host a community engagement event, The Magic of Nutrition and Physical Activity-A Healthy Living Expo, Saturday, Feb. 22, from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. on the square in downtown Elba.

Views From
The Pressbox

By Ricky Mularz, Sports Editor

Our grandson Lawson has a very big vocabulary and there is no doubt it comes from his love of reading. He reads at least two books a day, and often more, and seems to be never satisfied as he tries to find the answers to anything he doesn't understand. Hey, even my wife and I read a book last week. So, it may be wearing off on us.

For what it is worth....

 The Elba Tigers saw their disappointing basketball season come to an abrupt end last week with a 100-44 shellacking at the hands of the Florala Wildcats. The Tigers came out fast and looked to try and keep pace with the high-flying Wildcats, but couldn't get their shots to fall while Florala drained a dozen three-pointers and just ran away with the big win. It has been a long time since Elba won only three games in basketball and even longer since the Tigers allowed 100 points in a game. This season may be one that gets only a few words in the rich history of Elba Tiger basketball.

 The Elba Lady Tigers continued their season long drive toward the regional tournament as they added the area tournament title to the regular season area title and moved within one win of a trip to Montgomery. The Lady Tigers defeated Brantley for the third time in the season and got revenge for a regular season loss to Kinston in the area finals by posting a 20-point win over the talented Lady Bulldogs. The win over Kinston was Elba's 20th of the season, a rare feat at Elba High, and proved that the highly competitive schedule devised by Coach Shaun Hammonds paid dividends.

 Two area teams punched their tickets to sub-region play last week as Zion Chapel won its area tournament and Kinston placed second. The Rebels shared the regular season crown with Goshen, but then proved it was the class of the area in the four-team tournament as they rolled past New Brockton and Goshen to push their win total to 15 and advance to sub-region play. The Lady Bulldogs ran their winning streak to eight games with a big win over Florala in the opening round of the area tourney, and while they lost to Elba in the tournament finals, the Lady Bulldogs made it clear that they were a team to reckon with as they continue their season with a trip to sub-region.

 The season came to an end for the other teams in the area in area tournament play as a new page was entered in the history books.

 New Brockton ended its season with a 3-20 record and has now posted a record of only 6 wins and 60 losses over the past three seasons, while the Lady Gamecocks closed its season winless with an 0-23 record and over the past seven years has struggled to a combined record of only 10 wins and 127 losses.

 Zion Chapel was the number two seed entering the area tournament and owned two wins over Goshen, but the Lady Rebels didn't find the third time to be a charm as they were upset by Goshen to end the season with a 4-16 record and a total of 21 wins over the last four years.

 Kinston was eliminated in the opening round of the area tournament to close the season with a 4-17 record after posting 10 wins last season, but it was the Bulldogs seventh straight losing season as they have posted a 20-52 slate the last two years.

 Brantley ended its season with a disappointing 11-11 record after an opening round loss in the area tournament, far from the 22 wins posted a year ago, and the fewest wins in five years after posting five 20-win seasons over a seven-year span.

 All is quiet on the coaching front here in Elba, and last week I heard it may be as late as April before a new head football coach is named. Again, I only know what I hear. So, if you know more, let me know.

Elba Tigers tamed by Florala 100-44

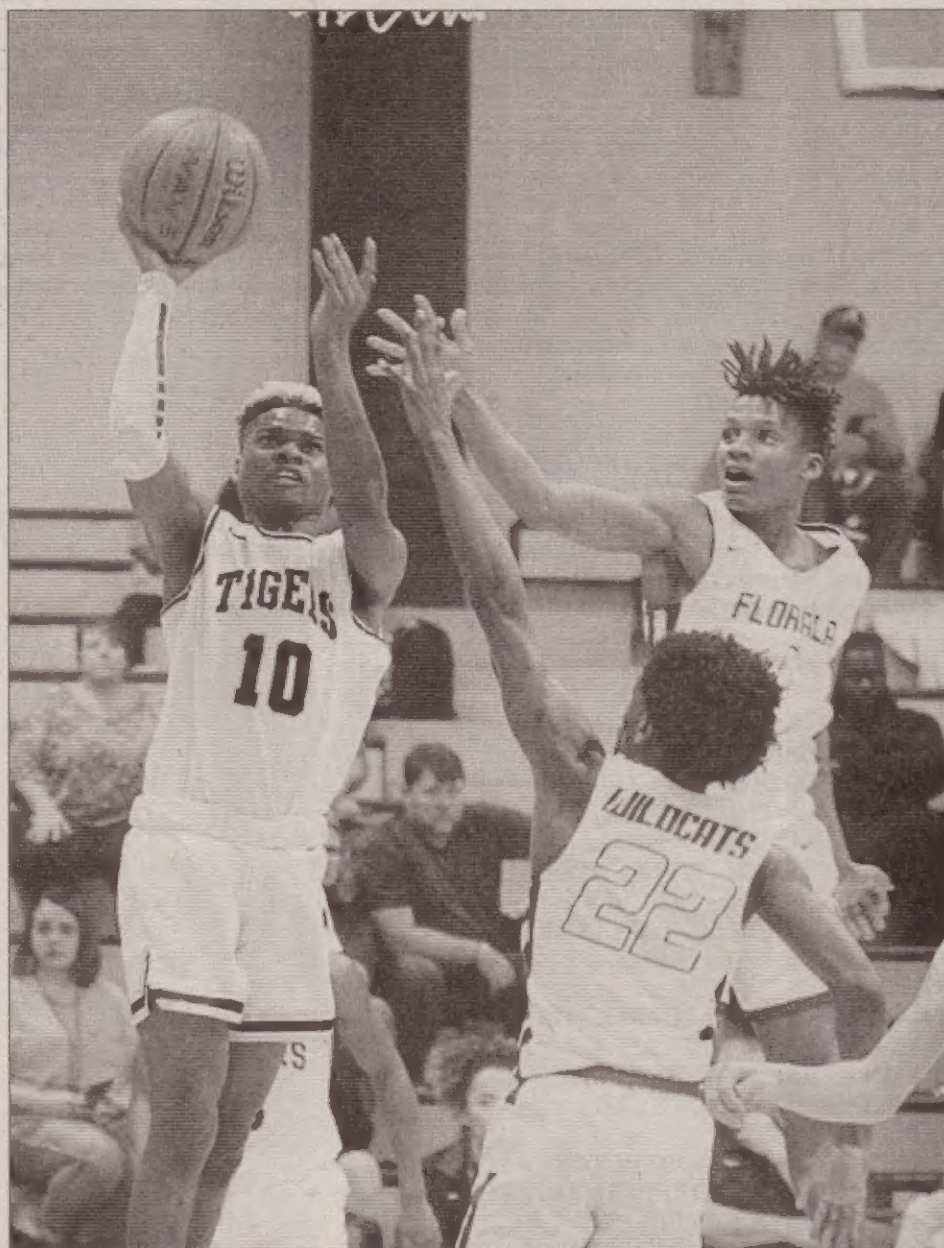

The Elba Tigers saw their season come to an abrupt end last week in the opening round of the Class 1A, Area 3 basketball tournament as they fell to the top-seed Florala Wildcats 100-44.

Elba trailed only 4-3 early in the opening quarter after a 3-pointer by Collin Harrison, but had a hard time getting its shots to drop for the remainder of the stanza and watched as the Wildcats bombed away from outside the arc as Florala nailed seven 3-pointers to race out to a 24-7 lead.

Chrystyle Caldwell sparked an early 5-1 run by the Tigers to open the second quarter, but Florala never slowed down and took advantage of Tiger turnovers and five more 3-pointers to go in at intermission with a lopsided 54-20 advantage.

A 3-pointer by Sebastian Thomas sparked a 5-0 Tiger run to open the third quarter as Elba appeared determined to fight its way back into the game, but the Wildcats were on fire and never slowed down on either end of the court as they continued to pour it on and carried a 77-30 lead into the fourth quarter.

Florala continued to score almost at will in the fourth quarter, and while its fans were cheering for their team to reach the century mark, the Wildcats continued to add to their lead and went up 95-38 with 4:52 still left on the clock. The Wildcats reached the 100-point plateau with 1:18 remaining and at the final horn celebrated the wild 100-44 win.

Improve record to 20-7

Lady Tigers are area champs

The Elba Lady Tigers proved just why they were the top seed entering last week's Class 1A, Area 3 basketball tournament as they rolled to wins over Brantley 34-24 and Kinston 61-41 to add the tournament title to the regular season crown.

"We have worked hard in practice all season to improve as individuals and as a team and put together a very competitive schedule to prepare us for the post-season," stated Elba's Coach Shaun Hammonds, "and last week we reaped the fruits of our labor. Both of our opponents were very good teams and were very well coached, and we had to step up and play our best to advance. We are still learning and working to get better every time we get on the court, and have our sights set high."

Following are highlights of last week's area tournament wins:

Elba 34 Brantley 24

The Elba Lady Tigers claimed their third win of the season over the Brantley Lady Bulldogs with a hard fought 34-24 victory.

Brantley jumped out to an early 5-0 lead behind the scoring of Gabby Perkins and Kayden Dunn, but the Lady Tigers responded and led by the play of Nina Williams and Jaylyn Baker rallied to sneak ahead 9-7. Neither team could find its way to the goal in the second quarter as the score was tied at 11-11 heading into the second half.

Jaylyn Baker converted a three-point play and got inside for a basket to put Elba on top 16-11 midway through the third quarter, but Gabby Perkins answered with a three-point play of her own to cut the lead to 16-14. The Lady Bulldogs stayed within striking distance and trailed only 20-19 late in the stanza, only to see the Lady Tigers Melissa Williams drain a long 3-pointer to give Elba a 23-19 advantage heading into the fourth quarter.

Gabby Perkins made it a one-point game at 23-22 with five minutes remaining after a basket inside, but the Lady Tigers again rallied as Breanna Sanders hit two short jumpers and Nina Williams added two free throws to push their lead to 29-22 with two minutes left on the clock. Nina Williams was clutch at the foul line in the closing minutes as she connected on 5 of 7 shots from the line to seal the 34-24 opening round win.

Jaylyn Baker scored 13 points and Nina Williams added 12 to lead Elba, while Gabby Perkins led Brantley with 11 points.

Elba (34): Baker 13, N. Williams 12, M. Williams 3, Sanders 6.

B'ley (24): Bush 2, Barginiere 1, Perkins 11, Brockton 5, Dunn 5.

Elba 61 Kinston 41

The Elba Lady Tigers pulled ahead early and pulled away late to defeat the Kinston Lady Bulldogs 61-41 to claim the area tournament title.

Nina Williams scored Elba's first six points to keep the Lady Tigers even at 6-6 early in the opening quarter, and while Courtney Lunsford and Addison Musgrove combined to score nine points for Kinston, Williams matched that number herself as the Lady Tigers rallied late to open up a 16-11 lead.

Kinston battled throughout the second quarter and behind the play of Addison Musgrove trailed only 28-25 until the closing second of the half, when Elba's Breanna Sanders sank a long 3-pointer to send the Lady Tigers in at intermission with a 31-25 lead.

Elba's Melissa Williams and Kinston's Addison Musgrove both nailed a pair of 3-pointers in the third quarter Kelsi Cardwell added one trey for the Lady Bulldogs as Kinston battled to hang close. However, Elba's fast paced style of play began to take its toll on Kinston and by the end of the stanza the Lady Tigers were on top 46-35.

The Lady Tigers kept up its full court pressure on defense and hit 7 of 10 free throws in the fourth quarter to run away in the final stanza, and at the final horn it was Elba doing the celebrating as the Lady Tigers claimed the 61-41 win.

Nina Williams scored 18 points to lead Elba, while Melissa Williams and Breanna Sanders both added 12. Addison Musgrove scored 16 points and Courtney Lunsford added 11 to lead the Lady Bulldogs.

Elba (61): Baker 9, N. Williams 18, M. Williams 12, Sanders 12, Edwards 1, Hooks 9.

K'ton (41): Lunsford 11, Cardwell 7, Musgrove 16, McReynolds 7.

Elba E Club hosted fun-filled Old Timers vs Rookies baseball fundraising event last Saturday, Feb. 8th, at Elba High School

by Linda Hodge, Editor

The Elba High School baseball program kicked off the season Saturday, Feb. 8, in a fun way as the program hosted its annual 'Old Timers' Hit-a-Thon and Rookies vs Old Timers game.

The day's highlights also included a ribeye steak sandwich plate sale, which is always a super successful part of the event.

The actual start to Saturday's action was delayed a bit due to rain in the area, but that soon cleared and allowed the festivities to get underway.

First up was the 'Old Timers' Hit-a-Thon where participants slugged it out for two awards - longest hit and most hits. The longest hit award went to a repeat winner and early 2000's Elba grad - Marcus Henderson. The most hits went to a recent Elba grad [Class of 2019] - Byron Johnson.

The Rookies [current varsity Elba baseball team] vs. the 'Old Timers' baseball game was a 5-inning affair this year, with the Rookies coming out on top 7-4 in the end.

A trio of Johnson 'old timers' run down Collin Sauls caught between third and home during last Saturday's Old Timers vs Rookies game. Braxton Robinson was catching behind the plate for the Old Timers and caught Sauls between the bases on a pitch, which led to this run down out. The Johnson trio included Byron, Blake and Chance. The photo at the right shows Sauls' grin after he was caught by the 'old guys' in that attempt to make it home.

The Old Timers took an early 1-0 lead in the game, but the Rookies game roaring back mid-way in the contest and jumped out to a scoring seven unanswered runs. However, the Old Timers showed the Rookies they still had fight left in them and rallied in the bottom of the fifth to close the game out with a 7-4 final.

As expected, there was quite a bit of 'smack talk' coming from both sides throughout the fun-filled game, but it can be reported that all left smiling and still friends in the end. And, all were wishing the 2020 Elba Tigers best of luck this baseball season, which officially begins Monday, Feb. 17, at the Hits for Heroes event in Dothan as the Tigers will take on Geneva.

The JV Tigers will host Opp on Tuesday, Feb. 18, and both the JV and Varsity teams will play New Brockton in Elba on Thursday, Feb. 20, beginning at 4:30.

The proceeds raised last Saturday from the ribeye steak sandwich plate sales and the Old-Timers event will go directly to the baseball team through the Elba E Club, the booster organization for athletics at Elba High School. E Club parent liaisons for baseball this year are Kelly and Kayron Shehee.

"Saturday's fundraiser was a great success for our baseball program," Kayron Shehee said. "We were afraid the rain was going to mess us up there for a bit, but it cleared up enough that we were able to continue with our activities. All in all, it was a great day for our baseball program!"

The varsity Tigers will be led this season again by Coach Glen Johnson. He said he feels good about this year's team and encourages all fans to come out and support the Tigers!
